Two Charged With Bryant Bank Robbery

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Bank robbery charges were filed Thursday against Donald R. Buchanan, 29, and James K. Johnson, 30, in connection with the holdup of the Bryant branch of the Benton State Bank Monday.

Two men, armed with pistols, robbed the bank of about $18,000 and escaped after locking seven persons, including five customers, in the bank's vault. No arrests have been made.

Buchanan, a native of Texas, and Johnson, a native Arkansan, also are named by Oklahoma authorities as possible suspects in the $20,000 robbery of the Bank of Hartshorne, Okla., last Friday.

Johnson and Buchanan escaped from the Oklahoma penitentiary at McAlester Nov. 28. Buchanan, arrested in Fort Smith on charges of armed robbery in Oklahoma, was serving a 25-year sentence when he escaped.

Johnson was serving a two-year term in the Oklahoma prison for firearms violation when he escaped.

Yippie Says Probers Won't Hear Him

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Yippie leader Jerry Rubin says House members investigating the Chicago street disorders don't want him to appear in open session because they fear what he'll say.

Rubin, who was tossed out of a session earlier this week because he wore a Santa Claus suit, said Thursday he wouldn't testify at today's hearings chaired by Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., unless they were open to the press and public.

The special subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities said Rubin was called to testify in closed session because he faces charges in Illinois for solicitation to commit mob action during demonstrations at the Democratic National Convention.

The subcommittee has held hearings all week long into disturbances at the August convention.

Rubin was permitted in the hearing room Thursday when he arrived wearing a blue sweater, brown slacks and a beaded band around his forehead beneath a full head of bushy dark hair. He also has a full beard.

In a statement distributed Thursday, Rubin said:

"The inquisitors have demanded that I take the stand Friday behind locked doors—closed to the press and public. They know that I will expose them as the fools, racists, cowards that they are. I will not say a word to HUAC unless the doors are opened and the press and the public admitted."

All workers are urged to complete contacting their lists, if they have not done so, and turn in the pledges.

Army to Release Some Reservists, Replace Them Through Draft

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon intends to release about 20,000 Army National Guardsmen and reservists now on active duty and replace them through increasing draft calls by possibly 3,000 men a month, sources say.

It was learned that the Army has decided to free its mobilized guardsmen and reservists by the end of 1969, meaning a savings of at least five months from the two years they could have served.

Meanwhile, sources said, draft calls will be boosted starting several months ahead of time to have regulars ready to fill the gaps left by the departing guardsmen and reservists.

Army officials calculate it takes about five months to put a man through basic and advanced individual training, and give him leave, before he can be assigned to a unit.

To accommodate the increased training load, the Army is reversing plans to cut back its training companies.

Less than a month ago, Nov. 18, the Army announced that 30 basic combat training companies at Ft. Bliss, Tex., and 18 advanced individual training companies at Ft. Dix, N.J., would be eliminated.

Since then, sources said, it was decided to set a target and get prepared for release of the 20,000 guardsmen and reservists ordered to active duty last spring to supply support troops for Vietnam and to plug some holes in the Army's forces in the United States.

The January draft call has been set at 26,800. It was not known immediately whether that quota will be raised or whether the increase will show up in later months.

A total of 38,000 Army, Air Force and Navy reservists and guardsmen were mustered in the wake of the enemy's winter offensive in Vietnam and a flareup of tensions in Korea stemming from the seizure of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo.

The Air Force already has started freeing 16,127 reservists and guardsmen. All of them, including members of six guard fighter-bomber squadrons now in South Vietnam and South Korea, are due back in civilian life by June 30.

Mobilized pilots and navigators will be replaced from the Air Force's regular training output and what it calls its "personal management."

The Navy also has replaced some of the 1,600 reservists it ordered up earlier this year.

Most of the 13,600 Army guardsmen and 6,400 Army reservists were ordered into uniform last May.

Some 7,600 of them have gone to South Vietnam in 76 units, mostly company and detachment-size outfits performing transportation, medical, ordnance, signal and quartermaster work.

Included are two artillery battalions from New Hampshire and Kentucky and a combat engineer battalion from Idaho.

These units began arriving in Vietnam late in August. They are expected to finish their one-year overseas tour before demobilization.

An undetermined number of Army guardsmen and reservists have been sent to Vietnam as individual replacements in regular Army units.

Officials said they did not know when the individual "fillers" in Vietnam and stateside would start getting out.

Memphis Closes Hospitals to Arkansans

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The poor from Arkansas, accustomed to finding a free bed and medical care in the city of Memphis hospitals, will find the hospital doors closed to them after Dec. 15.

The city announced Thursday it would cut off medical aid to the Arkansas indigents that date—an extension of the earlier deadline which had been set for Monday.

Hospital officials said they granted the extension to give Arkansas adequate notice of the action, and that no more extensions would be made.

After 12:01 a.m. Dec. 15, "a certificate of residency will be required as a part of the admission procedure," said Warren D. Cruzen, vice chairman of the hospitals' board of trustees.

The only Arkansas patients who will be treated after then will be emergency cases. No Arkansas patients will be admitted to the hospital unless it is determined their health would be jeopardized by not being hospitalized.

The complex of five city hospitals long has drawn the poor from the surrounding areas of Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi. Local officials say the poor come to the city hospitals chiefly because they can get treatment free.

Then too, they say, many hospitals in outlying areas lack bed space and the medical specialists available at the city hospitals.

The city says it spends $1.9 million a year in treating indigents from other parts of Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi. Of this, it says, $500,000 goes for treating Mississippi patients, $200,000 for those from Arkansas and the remainder for Tennessee patients.

The city had told Arkansas several months ago it would stop treating its indigents unless a plan was devised to reimburse the city for the cost. Arkansas Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller agreed to pay for all but obstetrical care. The city rejected this, saying most of the cost came from obstetrics.

A majority of the Arkansas indigents come from Crittenden County, just across the Mississippi River. A five-month study of indigent costs this year showed about $57,000 of the $81,000 loss at city hospitals be-

Reports on Trapped North Vietnamese

Editor's Note: Dang Van Phuoc, a Vietnamese photographer employed by The Associated Press, was accompanying the U.S. Marines on an operation south of Da Nang Thursday when three Vietnamese trapped in a bunker refused to come out. Because he spoke the language, the photographer acted as interpreter. Here is his report.

By DAN VAN PHUOC
DIEN BAN, Vietnam (AP) — The North Vietnamese had fought hard, but now the advancing American Marines had trapped them in their bunkers, and they were afraid.

"If I come out, will they shoot me?" One of the men in the bunker asked.

"If you come out with your hands up, they won't kill you," I told him. "But you must not have anything in your hands. If they see you have a grenade or a gun, they will shoot."

It was the 16th day of Operation Meade River, a massive allied operation to trap enemy troops in one of their favorite operating areas, and this was the hard part.

The operation area now covered an area of less than two square miles, mostly open land honeycombed with natural and man-made hiding places. Many of the bunkers had been here for years, and some were almost untouched by the pounding of artillery and air strikes that had preceded the Marines' advance.

There was little firing as the men of the 3rd Battalion, 26th Marines moved forward to root out the remaining enemy from the territory inside the horseshoe bend of a small river near the village of Dien Ban, 15 miles south of Da Nang.

There was a report that 60 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had escaped through the inner cordon and were trying to get away to the west or north, where another line of Marines was in position.

But here the immediate concern was the slow, dangerous job of checking the bunkers one by one. Bombs and shells had collapsed the roofs of some. Many were empty. Others had only dead in them.

A Marine, his revolver in hand, squeezed into the entrance of one bunker, then reappeared.

"There's two in there," he said. "They won't come out."

I went forward and crawled into the hole.

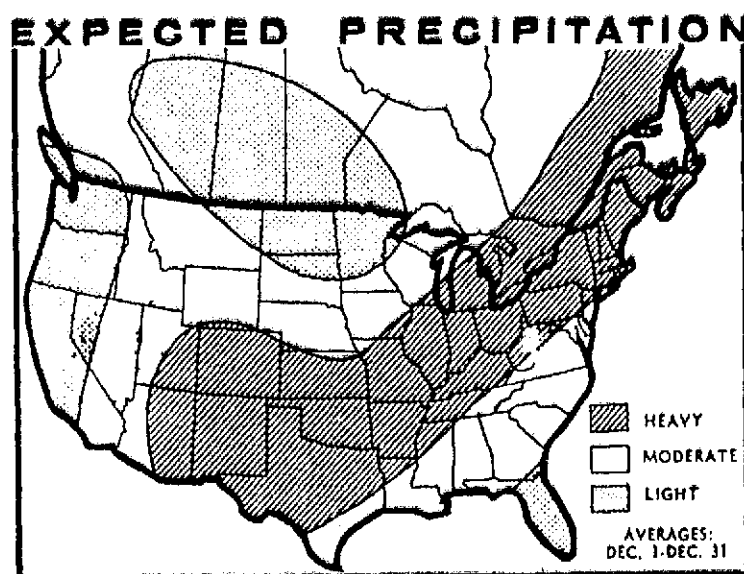

The first man came out, his empty hands stretched out before him. Two others followed, another North Vietnamese and a 16-year-old girl who said she was Viet Cong.

All three were wounded slightly and had not eaten for two days. The first soldier, who identified himself as a messenger, said that when they rest of the unit pulled out, they took along the weapons of the ones who stayed behind.

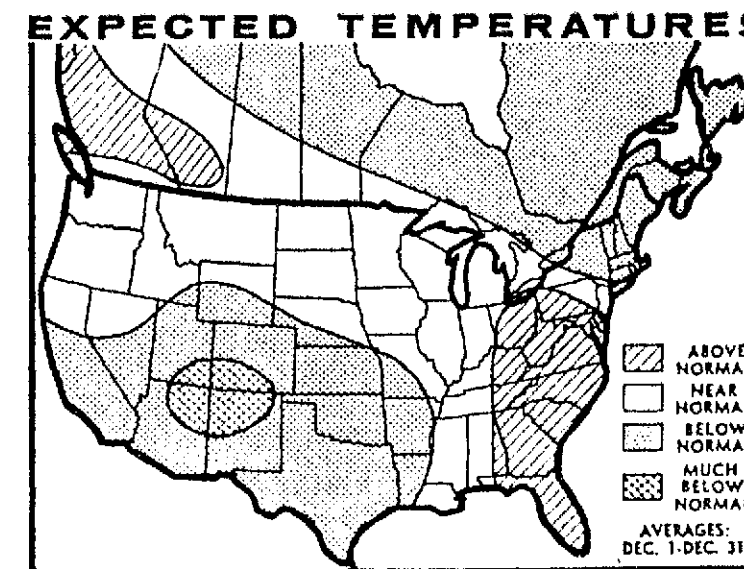

About 150 yards away, the Marines had found another bunker—a huge affair that yielded one prisoner, a North Vietnamese lieutenant. He said he had been on the staff of a battalion which used the big bunker as its command post.

The lieutenant said that while

His Lordship Hit With Pie

LONDON (AP) — Lord Harlech, former British ambassador to the United States, got hit in the face with a meringue pie as he was playing guitar with the pop music group the Rolling Stones.

Mick Jagger, the group's singer, started the pie fight and nearly 80 guests at a promotion banquet Thursday for a new Rolling Stones record joined in. Lord Harlech was sitting in for guitarist Keith Richards at the top table when he was hit.

"He said he enjoyed himself," Jagger said. "I hope he did."

Jagger said the pies were made of artificial, show-business foam. "They stick to your face but don't harm clothes."

he had been in South Vietnam for six months, most of the men in his unit were new.

"But they are very tired from the fighting and the bombing all the time," he said, speaking calmly in a low voice, "and I am very tired, too. I do not want to go on."

Apparently Arkla Wants Rate Hike

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — W.R. "Will" Stephens, president and board chairman of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., said Thursday he was not contemplating a gas rate increase, but a letter he sent to the state Public Service Commission seemed to ask for one.

Stephens said the letter, written to PSC Chairman Lewis Robinson on Dec. 3, is not a rate increase application.

The letter mentions an extra "82 cents a month for each customer that we have in Arkansas" who would benefit from two new storage facilities. He said the extra money would pay off a loan used to obtain the facilities.

The letter said, "I hope you will let us put this 82 cents into effect Jan. 1." And it said that "if you and your commission will go along with this 82 cents a month" Arkla could look for other ways to improve service.

The letter does not explain how the 82 cents a month would be levied, but a public relations representative of Stephens said that the 82 cents was an average increase for residential customers.

Arkla announced Wednesday it would spend $25 million in the next three years for additional transmission lines and storage facilities to increase its peak capacity in Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas by about 300 million cubic feet a day.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television viewers watching Thursday night's hour-long closeup of Michelangelo's Sistine chapel fresco in black and white missed, unfortunately, the best part. It should have been seen in color.

The ABC program consisted of a long and loving inspection of the 300 or so figures created almost 500 years ago by the great artist. It was filmed from scaffolding that brought the cameras almost as close to the ceiling as Michelangelo was when he painted it.

As noted in the narration, Michelangelo combined four religious themes in the huge work: creation, temptation, repentance and redemption. In handling them, he created a marvelous gallery of forms and faces—prophets and fools, very young and very old, exalted and vernal, beautiful and ugly.

He told stories in his pictures, including the ones about David and Goliath and Noah and the flood. The cameras always moved slowly, but occasionally they lingered over some special detail—an extended hand, the wrinkles or beard on an old man. Sometimes modern lighting equipment dramatically concentrated on a single figure while the rest of the work was in darkness.

Apparently, the producer of the show, who put in a year on the job, had called it "one whole time that she never saw the way it appeared on the TV screen, ABC apparently tried to add a little dash by calling it "The Secret of Michelangelo," although no one ever quite explained just what that was.

The entire pictorial treatment of the Masterpiece was extremely reverent, and it was apparently thought necessary to handle the sound portion in the same way. Thus for the hour we had the rich voice of actor Christopher Plummer and the stage accent of Zoe Caldwell reading portions of the Bible and other suitable fragments appropriate to whatever pictures were on screen.

The hour would have been considerably less somnolent had there been, instead, a brisk, informative commentary, by a student of the arts or the artist, instead of a theatrical reading.

It would have been interesting to know more about the man, the manner in which he worked and also about preservation of the masterpiece—in most of the closeup shots, the cracks on the printings seemed alarmingly long and large.

Generally, it was a worthy educational effort of a type and quality rarely seen on commercial television.

NBC's change of format in its dinner-hour Huntley-Brinkley news show has been in effect for the past few nights. Chet and David now work at twin desks in the same New York studio.

The big change seems to involve Brinkley. He used to specialize in material involving government and politics. That Washington-based chore seems to have shifted to John Chancellor who, though without Brinkley's dry humor, handles it very smoothly, indeed.

May finally broke up the couple, but Jean thinks Tom's mother managed it, as she has a reputation of keeping him from "entanglements." This isn't true; she told me she liked Jean and hoped they'd get back together.

I am an old friend of Tom and his family, but I don't know Jean very well. Should I tell her about the sister? Maybe then she won't carry a grudge against the mother and be too bitter to stand.

Dear Bystander: Jean doesn't need anyone to tell her that this is an impossible situation. With two females working Tom's puppet strings, he'll never break free, and when he is finally turned loose, he'll still be a puppet looking for another master.

Dear Bored: Consider your Character Actor Dies in Hollywood

Character Actor Dies in Hollywood
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fred Clark, a veteran character actor who played the explosive boss or a neighbor with a slow burn, died of a liver ailment Thursday night after a month's hospitalization.

An accomplished dramatic actor, he first became known to millions as the television neighbor of Burns and Allen, showing uncontrolled indignation at the late Gracie Allen's antics.

Clark, 54 was a California native who went into acting with a scholarship award by the American Academy of Dramatic Art. By the 1950s he was a firmly typed actor.

Tall and bald, with a brush mustache, he was a hit in "Don't Go Near the Water," "The Mating Game" and many others.

A spokesman at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica, where Clark was admitted Nov. 7 for treatment of a back spasm, said the actor was suffering from "back derangement and a liver ailment."

Clark costarred with Red Buttons in a TV series called "The Secret Life of Henry Phyte."

In the Burns and Allen series on TV, his wife was played by Bea Benaderet, who died earlier this year.

Flu Virus Changes From Year to Year

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Doctors are having a hard time fighting the Hong Kong flu because the flu virus changes from year to year, area to area, even case to case.

That is why vaccine being developed to prevent this year's variant of the Asian flu remains an unknown quantity, doctors at the National Communicable Disease Center said. They expect Hong Kong flu to reach epidemic proportions in the United States this winter.

"We're lucky in most years if a vaccine is 60 to 70 per cent effective," Dr. Bruce Dull, assistant director of the center, said. "Our biggest problem is trying to educate people to understand that flu is different from all other contagious diseases."

The difference lies in what scientists call the "antigenic drift."

An antigen is a substance that causes the formation of antibodies. In all viruses except the ones causing flu, the antigens do not change. Therefore, a vaccine once effective against a virus-caused disease is always effective.

Scientists do not know why, or even exactly how, but flu viruses are different. This change, or mutability usually is so small that a vaccine developed for one strain will have at least a limited effect on a newer type.

Occasionally, however, flu virus antigens will show a more marked difference, as in the case of Hong Kong flu, and a new vaccine is needed.

A new vaccine has been developed, using fertile chicken eggs to grow the virus strain used in inoculation. But nobody knows yet how effective it will be.

Dr. Walter R. Dowdle, chief of infections unit, reported on tests now under way to find out.

A test group in Orange County, Calif., was inoculated about three weeks ago, he said, and a lab team from the center is in the county now "specifically to draw blood specimens to be sent to the lab." The specimens will show how effective the vaccine is in eliciting antibodies.

In addition, lab teams have inoculated inmates at the U.S. penitentiary in Atlanta and at Georgia's state prison at Reidsville. Dowdle said nose washes taken from the inmates at the time of vaccination and three weeks later will help tell scientists what to expect from the vaccine.

"The Hong Kong virus grows very well," Dowdle said, "much better than the original Asian flu."

Baseball Putting Off Key Issues

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Faced with a possible player strike and dwindling attendance in major league baseball parks, the American League is changing some spring training rules and the National League will test light in its ballparks.

That's the size of what happened in the final full day of baseball's winter meetings.

Only a one-hour session was planned for today, to discuss lowering the number of players a team can carry from 25 to 23. Thus it appears that the winter meetings will again end a day ahead of schedule with more important matters put off until later.

Among matters to have been decided at these meetings was the division of money for the inter-league playoffs that will be held for the first time in 1969.

The realignment of the minor leagues and rules at inter-league play were also put off for further talks.

The playoff money split was postponed, said National League President Warren Giles, because "that's not until next fall. We don't have to decide that now."

However, he did say, "the winter of the playoff should not be rewarded very much for being in the playoff because they share in the World Series money."

Minor League realignment, including the makeup of the Pacific Coast League, was put off because no agreement could be reached on how the PCL should be indemnified for losing teams in Seattle and San Diego to the American League. A meeting is set for Dec. 14 in Phoenix, Ariz., to decide the matter.

The subject of the player strike, "threatened Wednesday by the Players Association if agreement on a pension-fund dispute couldn't be reached, was not discussed.

"We just feel that when you're in negotiations it ought to be kept as low key as possible," said Giles.

"You can't settle this thing with news releases," John Gaherin, negotiator for the owners, did issue one news release, however, disputing the players' association's contention that it was delaying negotiations.

It ignored the association's charge that players were being pressured into signing their contracts.

American League President Cronin said experimental rules would be made during the 1969 spring training season, but that they would not be used during the regular season.

Among the experiments, on which Cronin will announce details later, are a permanent pinch hitter, a permanent pinch runner who could be used at any time and awarding an intentional walk automatically rather than throwing four balls.

Giles said the National League would test all its lighting systems to make sure outfielders were as well lit as the infield area. This was a suggestion of the New York Mets.

Giles recommended that votes expanding the league and other matters be approved by a three-quarters vote rather than a unanimous one, but was turned down because he couldn't receive unanimous approval for the idea.

"They didn't pay much attention to me," Giles lamented.

Super Oak Rick Barry struck again... helping Oakland take another step toward turning the American Basketball Association's Western Division race from a rout into a fiasco.

Barry poured in 30 points as the Oaks ripped the New York Nets 139-122 Thursday night for their 18th victory in 21 games. The triumph gave Oakland a full seven-game lead in their division.

Packers and Colts Meet Saturday

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer
GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers' three-year reign in the National Football League may come to an end this Saturday when they take on the Baltimore Colts.

Despite the extreme importance of the nationally-televised contest, it might not decide a thing.

Zeke Bratkowski is figured to get the starting nod at quarterback for the Packers.

Bart Starr hasn't thrown in practice yet this week as he is recuperating from a rib injury that was aggravated in last week's loss to the San Francisco 49ers.

"We don't know about Bart," a Packers spokesman said. "He might not attempt to throw until the pre-game warm-up."

Sitting on the Baltimore bench will be Johnny Unitas, while back-up quarterback Earl Morrall leads the Colts into battle.

Morrall has been at the reins all season while Baltimore has racked up an 11-1 record.

The Packers are only one-half game behind Central Division co-leaders Minnesota and Chicago.

Following the Baltimore clash, Green Bay takes on the Bears in Chicago to close out the season.

If Minnesota, Chicago and Green Bay should all lose this weekend, the division title would not be decided until the final day.

Baltimore, the Coastal Division leader, has to beat arch-rival Los Angeles in their season finale, despite what happened in Green Bay this Saturday, to qualify for the Western Conference championship game.

The Colts sport the league's top defense, which has given up only two touchdowns in six games. The offense, with Morrall directing, is scoring at a clip just under 30 points an outing.

Throughout their championship years, the Packers made it a point to win the big games. They don't come any bigger than Saturday's battle.

leaves 118-115 in the night's other game.

In the National Basketball Association, Baltimore defeated Los Angeles 108-90 and Philadelphia whipped Chicago 109-92.

Barry collected 17 points in the fourth period after Oakland opened up an early lead and never was headed. Gary Bradds contributed 30 points to the Oaks' attack, which utilized the rebounding of Ira Harge and the playmaking of Warren Armstrong.

Walt Simon topped New York with 29 points. He also was involved in a shoving match with Bradds in the opening quarter.

Denver's Byron Beck turned off a Hawkins-led rally in the closing seconds when he pulled down a rebound of Connie's forced shot, then held onto the ball until time ran out.

UCLA Going for 18th Victory

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ohio State likely will find out tonight that it takes more than practice with a tennis racquet to stop Lew Alcindor and the UCLA Bruins.

The country's top college basketball team and the agile 7-foot-2 Alcindor invade Columbus, Ohio, to battle the Buckeyes of the Big Ten.

In practice this week Fred Taylor, Ohio State coach, has stationed a 6-9 freshman in front of the basket with a tennis racquet to simulate Alcindor's height and bat away shots.

Whether this was any help to the Buckeyes remains to be seen. UCLA will be striving for its 18th straight and its 65th victory in 66 games.

Houston, Purdue, North Carolina State, Colorado, Boston College and Western Kentucky featured collegiate play Thursday night.

Houston, No. 6 in this week's Associated Press poll, whipped Arizona at home 85-64 as Theodis Lee and Ken Spain combined for 50 points. Lee scored 26 and Spain 24.

Purdue, beaten by UCLA in Los Angeles last week, opened its home season by thumping North Dakota 116-84 behind Rick Mount's 31 points.

North Carolina State made its first visit to New York in 12 years, a winning one by whacking NYU 61-49 in Madison Square Garden as Vann Williamsford threw in 23 points.

Cliff Meely's 24 points led Colorado over Texas Tech 81-77 at Lubbock as the Buffaloes won their third straight. Boston College opened its season with an easy 86-66 victory over visiting Le Moyne, N.Y. Western Kentucky, No. 17 in the AP poll, enjoyed a similar home court romp over Union, Tenn., 89-54.

Southern Illinois scored on the road over Wichita State 58-51. Providence defeated Assumption, Mass., 91-84. Dartmouth overcame Amherst 52-46. Georgia downed Georgia Tech 84-74. Temple crushed Lehigh 77-62. Northwestern beat Missouri 79-67. Virginia defeated Richmond 113-92 and Bradley took North Dakota State 68-51 in other games.

Also, Kent State humbled Arizona State 92-81. New Mexico State downed Brigham Young 83-65. Texas A&M defeated Centenary 72-65 and Seattle beat Utah State 90-80.

SWC Cage Teams Win Two of Three

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southwest Conference basketball teams won two of three games Thursday night, but Texas Christian's 160-pound Jeff Harp lost a bout with a black belt expert in karate.

Harp tangled with 6-foot-8, 245-pound Garland Williams of Southwestern Louisiana in a 75-58 Horned Frog victory. Harp got clobbered good.

"Someone pushed him down, but it wasn't me," said Harp. "I never did see who it was or I would have gone the other way."

Both benches erupted as tempers flared. Williams was tossed out of the game and Southwestern Louisiana coach Beryl Shipley drew two technical fouls in the non-conference game at Fort Worth.

The win gave TCU a 2-0 record. Rick Wittenbraker of TCU led the scoring with 20 points and James Cash pulled down 23 rebounds.

Texas A&M also stretched its season mark to 2-0 with a solid 72-65 victory over Centenary at College Station. Sophomore Bill Cooksey paced the Aggie attack with 17 points. Sonny Benefield, Billy Bob Barnett, and Ronnie Peret each scored 16 points.

Texas Tech was charged with 31 fouls in an 81-77 loss to Colorado before 7,100 fans at Lubbock. Cliff Meely pumped in 24 points and the winners. Jerry Haggard headed the losers with 16.

The SWC is now 8-6 against outside competition for the year.

Tonight, Baylor travels to New Orleans to play Loyla in the only game involving a SWC team.

pair of quick baskets to give Indiana a 98-76 command in the final quarter. But then New Orleans rallied and pulled to within three points in the final minute.

However, a 40-foot hook shot by Red Robbins that would have forced an overtime fell short as the horn sounded.

Apprentice Jockey Could Take Crown

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Angelo Cordero Jr. and Alvaro Pineda are out in front for the 1968 national jockey championship, but apprentice George Cusimano still has a chance of snatching the riding crown away from both of them.

Starting today's races, Cordero was leading with 304 victories to 301 for Pineda and 281 for Cusimano. Cusimano needs only to hit a hot streak like he did at Delaware during the summer to get back into the thick of contention during the remaining weeks of the year.

Cordero broke a tie at 300 with Pineda by riding four winners at Aqueduct in New York Thursday. Pineda scored once at Bay Meadows in California as did Cusimano at Laurel in Maryland.

The race for the riding championship has taken the play over the horses this weekend.

The $50,000 Display Handicap at two miles at Aqueduct tests the national program and features the final Saturday of the long New York thoroughbred season which ends next Tuesday.

Oakland 31, Denver 14—Raiders should be able to ease home against Broncos who were blasted by Chargers last week 47-23.

Weekend Pro Winners Selected

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Green Bay Packers are gathered around the campfire for the last stand. The old fort is tottering and the enemy is swarming in for the kill.

The Colts from Baltimore, still bitter about the disputed field goal in the 1965 sudden death playoff, would like nothing better than to push the Packers off the cliff Saturday afternoon.

Can Ray Nitschke, Willie Davis, Jerry Kramer and the old champs put together one last big effort? Can Bart Starr make it? Will Saturday mark the end of the Green Bay era?

Tune in Saturday. It should be a war.

After last week's 9-4 count the season record is 98-39-5 with 60-24 in the NFL and 38-15-1 in the AFL and two weeks to go. Let's try again. All games are Sunday unless otherwise noted.

NFL
Baltimore 20, Green Bay 14 (Saturday)—Colts on six-game win tear with three shutouts in last five games. Packers sagged against 49ers after Starr was hurt. If Bob Jeter is still out, count on Colts to zero in on sub cornerback. This is last shot for Packers unless Bears and Vikings also lose. Much depends on physical condition of Starr who listed questionable.

Los Angeles 24, Chicago 9—The flu bug forced George Allen to cancel practice Tuesday after Rams' impressive handling of Vikings. Los Angeles can't afford to miss a step before next week's big finale with Colts. Bears still hanging in there despite flood of injuries but don't have offense to shake that sturdy Ram defense.

Cleveland 30, Washington 14—Browns can start tuning up for Dallas if they can smother Sonny Jurgensen and beat Redskins. It should be no problem for Leroy Kelly to run on Skins and Bill Nielsen should have all time he needs to throw the ball. There's only one problem—that fellow Jurgensen.

New York 24, St. Louis 21—Cards know they have to win to stay alive and even that won't help if Cleveland wins. Loss of Dave Williams tough blow to St. Louis' passing game. Giants seem to have knack of handling Cards but the offensive line must keep those rushers off Fran Tarkenton's back.

Dallas 35, Pittsburgh 14—Cowboys without Pete Gent and Pettis Norman may decide to go with Craig Morton and let Don Meredith rest for more important work later against Cleveland or St. Louis. Steelers usually die in second half and Dallas rush should put heat on Dick Shiner.

Minnesota 23, San Francisco 21—We're picking an upset here despite 49ers' win over Green Bay. Vikings don't have much air punch but they can take it to you on the ground and that defensive line can eat a quarterback alive. If Vikings win, all they have to do is beat Philadelphia to get at least a tie in the Central Division. John Brodie may make this look like a bad dream but the Vikes are desperate.

Detroit 14, Atlanta 7—And how do you figure this kind of a game? Both are coming off shutout defeats. Lions winless in seven (two ties) showed nothing against Eagles in mud. Give Lions a slim vote because they do have a defense.

New Orleans 17, Philadelphia 13—Flip a coin. Win at Detroit has to help Eagles and the Boycott Day might even make them mad. Could set a record for intercepts with Norm Snead and Billy Kilmer at the controls.

AFL
Houston 21, Buffalo 17 (Saturday)—Last game for the Bills and will they be happy when this season is over. Houston beat them 30-7 on Oct. 27 in Buffalo. Ed Rukowski gave Oakland fits on Thanksgiving Day but they still have lost seven straight.

Miami 28, Boston 14—A mean-looking game for all sides. Dolphins whipped the Pats 24-10 in Boston, Nov. 24 when Bob Griese threw three touchdowns passes. Patriots snapped five-game losing streak against Cincinnati with biggest point spurge of season, 33.

Kansas City 27, San Diego 24—The big game of the day in the league. Chiefs won first meeting 27-20 at home and now must repeat on road while defending against John Hadl's bombs to Lance Alworth.

Oakland 31, Denver 14—Raiders should be able to ease home against Broncos who were blasted by Chargers last week 47-23.

Practice Can Be a Grind!

Belly dancer Little Egypt is latest employee of the Los Angeles Stars American Basketball League team. Stars hired her to teach players proper exercise methods. Larry Miller, right, seems to be enjoying his lesson.

McKay Not Satisfied With Ranking

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State might be the No. 1 college football team in the country, but John McKay, coach of second-ranked Southern California, won't believe it until the Buckeyes prove they can go unbeaten in 10 games.

"We think we're the best and, of course, Ohio State thinks they are," McKay said before the Heisman Trophy dinner Thursday night honoring winner O.J. Simpson of the Trojans.

"I'd like to have seen them play 10 games, though. Maybe they could have met Notre Dame in their 10th game."

The unbeaten Buckeyes played only nine regular season games while USC, with a chance to overtake Ohio State in the poll, was tied by Notre Dame last Saturday and finished at 9-0-1.

However, the Trojans get a final chance when they square off against Ohio State in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

McKay felt that, although the quality of opponents can't be regulated, at least there should be uniformity in the schedule with each team playing 10 games.

"After all, we would have been unbeaten and untied, too, if we had played only nine games," he pointed out.

"Fortunately, Ohio State will have to play a 10th game—against us."

"I'm happy The Associated Press is having a final poll after the bowl games. I think it's a good idea, particularly when the No. 1 and No. 2 teams meet like Ohio State and us. And I think the game should be sudden death if it ends in a tie at the end of regulation time."

2 Arkansas Coaches Are Nominated

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Arkansas coaches were among the 16 nominated Thursday for the Kodak College Football Coach of the Year awards to be made by members of the American Football Coaches Association.

Frank Broyles, University of Arkansas head coach, is among the eight coaches nominated for the award in the university division.

Arkansas State University Coach Bennie Ellender was nominated in the small college division. The awards will be presented at the annual AFCA meeting in Los Angeles Jan. 6-9.

Oakland won handily at Denver 43-7 in first meeting with George Blanda at controls.

New York 35, Cincinnati 17—First regular season meeting of two clubs. Jets already have Eastern title wrapped up and are trying to rest key talents. Bengals will be charged up for first trip to big town and could cause trouble. Paul Robinson needs only 10 yards to make 1,000-yard mark in rushing. Last game for Cincinnati.

Defenseman Kent Douglas was the hero of Detroit's victory over New York, scoring one goal and setting up two others.

The Red Wings' defenseman opened the scoring at 5:32 of the first period, but the Rangers tied it on Jim Neilson's goal in the same period.

Rookie Ed Hatoum put Detroit in front 2-1 late in the period, and Douglas got assists on second-period goals by Pete Stenkowski and Frank Mahovlich to open up the margin.

Bullets Stop Lakers' Super Trio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Want to know how to control Los Angeles' rampaging Lakers? Just stop Elgin Baylor, Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West.

Sounds impossible? Well, the Baltimore Bullets did just that Wednesday night and rode a 108-80 victory over the Lakers back into first place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

The Bullets' tenacious defense completely checked the Lakers' super trio, who spent the last five minutes of the game sitting on the bench next to disgruntled Coach Butch van Breda Kolff.

Jack Martin held Elgin Baylor to only 16 points, while Chamberlain managed only 17 and West 20. Chamberlain scored only five points in the second half and grabbed just four of his 21 rebounds after intermission while Baltimore was building a big lead.

Philadelphia sailed past Chicago 109-92 in the night's only other NBA game.

In the American Basketball Association, Indiana nipped New Orleans 118-115. Denver squeezed past Minnesota 119-118 and Oakland turned back New York 139-122.

The victory was the 20th in 27 games for the Bullets, who moved a full game ahead of Boston in the Eastern race. The setback snapped the Lakers' three-game victory streak, but Los Angeles still has a five-game lead in the Western Division.

Earl Monroe led the winners with 26 points while rookie Wes Unseld grabbed 27 rebounds in outplaying Chamberlain.

The Lakers, forced to take many shots from way out of range because of Baltimore's overpowering defense, trailed 50-43 at halftime. Then Baltimore broke it open in the third quarter when Gus Johnson scored 12 of his 17 points and Unseld snared nine of his rebounds.

It also was a frustrating night for Chicago Coach Dick Motta, who benched his two 7-foot centers for the entire second half. Tom Boerwinkle had only five points and Dave Newmark was held scoreless in a first half that saw the Bulls hit only 11 of 53 shots while Philadelphia roared to a 62-29 lead.

Chicago managed to cut the gap to 13 points in the final quarter, however, as Bob Boerwinkle scored 24 of his 33 points.

Bill Cunningham led the way for the 76ers with 23 points, while Wally Jones contributed 19.

Defending AIC Champ Posts Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Defending champion Henderson, Harding and State College of Arkansas notched their second straight victories in the young Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball season Thursday night.

Henderson, ahead 10 points at the half, stayed off a late rally by Hendrix to win 71-66. Hendrix had pulled to within two points, 67-65, with 1:11 remaining in the game, before Lew Wood put the game out of reach with four quick points.

Ron Dunning led Henderson with 15 points and Ronnie Metcalf paced Hendrix with 18 points.

SCA, ahead only by a point at intermission, nudged Arkansas College 71-69 in a game played at Batesville. Connie Johnson pumped in 24 points and Wayne Malcolm meshed 21 for SCA. Terry Barnhill led AC with 25 points and Bill Cossey added 23.

Bobbittens Lose to Nashville

By RALPH ROULTON
Star Sportswriter

Plagued by the opening-game jitters, the Hope Bobbittens fell behind early and were beaten 30-27 by the Nashville Scrappers last night in Nashville.

Down 21-12 at halftime, the Bobbittens were unable to put up a comeback as Nashville was controlling the rebounds, Bobbittens Coach Jim Jordan refused to release the scoring totals this early in the season, but said that he had averted to an individual grading system.

Freshman center Lynnt Norton finished highest in the evaluation sheets with a plus 6. Coach Jordan commented that the play was ragged, which is normal for this early point in the season.

Leading Nashville were Briggs with 15 points and Keaster and Clark with 8 apiece.

In the junior girls game Nashville rolled up an early margin and defeated the Hope girls 32-11. No immediate details of the game were available.

Tonight the junior boys, Lady Cats, and Bobcats travel to De Queen for a set, with the first game beginning at 6:00 p.m.

Weariness Takes Over Image Hearing

By GEORGE W. HACKETT
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —

One thing has changed since the hearing on Dancer's Image opened Nov. 18. Calmness has been replaced by tension, tempers and weariness.

All three were visibly evident Thursday when the state called its last witness, Dr. Francis Ozog, to testify before the Kentucky Racing Commission.

The commission is considering an appeal by Peter Fuller, owner of the colt, who is trying to recover the $122,600 purse denied him because of a report showing the presence of phenylbutazone in Dancer's Image.

Ozog, racing chemist for the state of Colorado, is considered an expert on phenylbutazone because the medication is permissible in horses running in his state.

Ozog was about to present a number of slides of crystal tests he had made in order to compare them with those taken by Kenneth W. Smith, the chemist for Churchill Downs.

When Ozog produced the slides, Fuller's chief counsel, Arthur Grafton, demanded that the commission prohibit the use of such material as evidence.

"This is highly irregular and unusual," Grafton complained to the commission. He pointed out that Ozog sat through most of the hearings acting as a consultant to the commission's attorney, George Rabe.

"You cannot allow a man to sit here and hear testimony, then let him go home, make some experiments, and then bring them back here to be used as evidence," Grafton insisted.

He was overruled by Commission Chairman George Egner.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Nose-Throat Specialist Best Bet in Sinusitis

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—Can Argylol be used safely for sinus trouble? If so, what per cent? How can a postnasal drip and bad breath due to sinus trouble be cured?

A—Mild silver protein (Argylol) in 10 per cent solution is safe to use if it is not over four months old. Prolonged use may result in permanent silver deposits in the skin, giving the latter a grayish brown tinge.

Chronic sinusitis may be caused by excessive dryness of the indoor air, smog, heavy smoking, allergy of a chronic low-grade infection. To get rid of the symptoms. You must get rid of the cause. For this you should consult a nose and throat specialist.

Q—I am a man, 83, in good general health except that I cough a lot and bring up a lot of phlegm. Is there anything I can do for this condition?

A—A chronic cough may be caused by excessive smoking, tuberculosis, heavy atmospheric pollution, cancer of the respiratory tract, bronchitis or chronic congestion of the lungs due to a leaky heart valve. The first step toward appropriate treatment is to have your doctor determine the cause.

Q—How serious is a cystadenoma of the thyroid? Is it a form of cancer? What is the best treatment for it?

A—There are five different types of cystadenoma of the thyroid. Most of them are benign, but a few eventually become cancerous. If they are small and are shown by microscopic study to be benign no treatment is needed, but if their growth is rapid or if there is any question of their malignancy, they should be removed.

Q—I am a man, 47. For three years, when I walk one short block I get severe pains in the back of my legs. I have to stop for five minutes before I can go another block. My doctor says it is poor circulation but I've been taking circulation pills for three years and they have not helped me. What would you suggest?

A—The symptom you have described is called intermittent claudication. The most important part of the treatment is to give up tobacco in any form. Some victims of this disease have been helped by taking large doses of vitamin E. Others have reported improvement after taking niacin, papaverine or hexamethonium (all prescription drugs).

rounds of trumps. Then he cashed his remaining top spade and dummy's ace of diamonds. A second diamond lead put East in. East took one more diamond and was left with just spades and clubs. A spade lead would give South a ruff and discard and East wasn't going to fall into that trap. He led his deuce of clubs.

South played the jack and right here is where West showed his mettle. Ninety-nine players out of 100 would have covered the jack with the queen but West played the four.

The Detroit expert, Chuck Berger, sat West. He had counted the hand and knew that South still held two clubs and was sure to lose both unless one happened to be the ace. In that case, Chuck might have lost a trick but it would have been an over-trick, not the contract trick.

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♠ 3 ♦ 1 ♥ 1 ♠
Pass 3 ♦ Pass 3 N.T.
Pass 4 ♥ Pass Pass
Opening lead—♠ 3

South's three no-trump call was the winning bid. It was also well-thought-out. He did have five pretty good hearts and his partner had raised him but his distribution was 5-3-3-2 and he felt that the hand would probably produce as many tricks at no-trump as at spades.

North almost let the hand play there but North kept looking at his four good hearts and finally took the hand back to the suit contract.

At three no-trump South would have eventually got around to leading his jack of clubs if West covered South would have a sure club trick. If West played low South would let the jack ride and make his club trick that way. Since South had eight top tricks, one in clubs would have been all he needed.

Playing at four hearts South needed two club tricks for his contract. He made a valiant effort to get them but brilliant defense was too much for him.

After winning the spade lead South played out two

6 TEST QUESTIONS

THE Great Teacher painted a picture of the final Judgment. To the amazement of His hearers, He said the test questions would be six:

Did you feed the hungry? Did you give drink to the thirsty?
Did you welcome the stranger? Did you clothe the naked?
Did you visit the sick? Did you help men in prison?

Had there been a seventh question, surely, it would have been —
“Do you attend church regularly?” See the two faces . . . simple, but a great transaction is taking place. If you have been sick a week, or two, or three — then you understand.
Living eyes are always hungry and to serve them is rich living. Why wait to give expensive wreaths and sprays until those eyes have closed in death? Attend church this week.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. You in the Church and the Church in you form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

These businessmen listed below urge everyone to get behind the churches. They alone provide a solution to the problems facing us.

per capita tax income to the average per capita tax income of the combined 36 states that have a state income tax.

The report concludes that:

—The state income tax in Arkansas yields revenue at a per capita rate equal to only 41 per cent of the per capita rate of the 36-state average income tax.

Increasing the Arkansas income tax to equal 67 per cent of the 36-state average would produce an additional $17.5 million annually in the state revenue in Arkansas, the report said.

—The state taxes generally classified as "other taxes" (such as taxes on parimutuel betting, insurance, severance, alcoholic beverages, and so on in Arkansas yield revenue at a per capita rate equal to only 46 per cent of the 36-state average.

Increasing the "other taxes" in Arkansas until they equal 67 per cent of the 36-state average would produce an additional $11.5 million annually in state revenue in Arkansas, the report said.

—The report did not specify the comparison of Arkansas' per capita revenue rate with the 36-state average in the category of "user charges and miscellaneous taxes." It indicated, however, that the state's rate was well below the 36-state average, and suggested Arkansas strive for the 50-state average, which in most categories was rate smaller than that of the 36 states that have state income taxes.

Increasing Arkansas' per capita revenue rate in this category of taxes from 50 per cent to 67 per cent of the 50-state average would produce an additional $12.2 million in state revenue annually, Venus said.

Venus said Arkansas' tax structure is one that hits hard on the citizen who is not in the high-income bracket. The low-income citizen pays the state rate as the high-income citizen in such taxes as sales tax, gasoline tax, tobacco tax, and so on.

passed through the Nixon clearing house and was stamped valid, Agnew came out in favor of block grants to the states. This would give them more leeway in spending federal funds.

Agnew said, there had developed "an unhealthy short circuit" between Washington and the cities which devalued state government control of programs.

"The Nixon administration looks with favor on the consolidation of the approximately 400 grants-in-aid programs now in existence," he said. "Everything is to be gained by reforming the present system, substituting the broad for the narrow."

He suggested formation of a "federal legislative-state executive committee" to give governors a voice in actions taken by congress which affect state budgets and administration of aid programs.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House minority leader, called on the governors to support electoral college reform to prevent what he said might be a future "deadly dangerous constitutional crisis" the country escaped when Nixon won a majority of the electoral votes.

The issue of block grants which Agnew endorsed headed the list of recommendations the Republican governors were piling up for Nixon's consideration.

What the governors want, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said in a conference paper, is a "nonproliferation treaty" with Washington against new, restrictive grants boosting the total of 220 programs which he said are now rigidly controlled by the federal government.

Retiring Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, the conference chairman, made clear, however, that the Republican governors are offering Nixon suggestions—and not demands.

Herbert G. Klein, chief of communications for the new administration, said he assumes that every governor who wants to discuss specific problems with the President-elect will get the chance before Nixon leaves for New York Saturday afternoon.

Klein said in an interview he is not looking for any announcement at this conference of Cabinet or other appointments. Nixon addresses the conference's state dinner tonight. There was no advance indication he planned any major pronouncements.

Although Nixon has designated Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, the vice president-elect, as his liaison with the nation's governors, Agnew has played a quiet role at the conference. His answer to colleagues who have approached him with problems was reported to have been: take them to Nixon.

Not all of the governors agreed on just how the new President ought to go about correcting what Agnew said earlier was an unhappiness among them "about the implementation of existing federal-state relations."

Rockefeller and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California disagreed on the New York governor's proposal for setting a federal minimum standard for welfare payments.

Rockefeller proposed that the federal government take over all welfare costs, a move that would boost Washington's contribution in this field to about $4.3 billion. It now pays one-third.

Reagan said that living costs vary by state and a federal standard of relief payments would force them down in some areas and up in others. He said it was like "throwing the baby out with the bath just to say that in correcting an inequity in some place we're going to level a whole country."

The conference will elect a fied and the report—particularly the summary, which accused Chicago police of unrestrained brutality against demonstrators—was rewritten under Clark's direction.

The Tribune gave this account of other background on the report and how it came to be released Sunday:

Walker wanted to be named special prosecutor for a federal grand jury now investigating the convention week violence and he was supported by Clark for this role. However, the idea was rejected by Chief Judge William J. Campbell of U.S. District Court in Chicago.

Judge Campbell, who is directing the grand jury probe, said Wednesday the timing and motivation of the report compiled by Walker should be scrutinized by the grand jury. He questioned its being released while the jury is hearing evidence.

After failing to get Walker named special prosecutor, his backers, including Clark, then persuaded Dr. Milton Eisenhower, head of the national commission, to put Walker in charge of the special task force to conduct an investigation of the convention disorders.

When he delivered his report to Washington, the Tribune said, Walker also gave a copy of it to Life magazine which obtained it before any members of the commission had seen it.

The story also questioned whether the report is an official U.S. document. If not, the document would not be privileged information and publishing firms spending large sums to get it out might be subject to libel and injunction suits.

"Since Walker did this for the commission under contract, the question as to whether his report is a privileged document is fuzzy," the Tribune quoted Joseph Laitin, information director for the commission in Washington. "I can't answer that question and I don't think anybody else can."

Meanwhile, first copies of a paperback edition of the report went on sale in Chicago Thursday and by midday the distributors concluded, "We've got a hit on our hands."

"Some outlets were reporting the sale of 30 to 40 per cent of their stock within one or two hours after they received delivery," said Gus Raggio, sales manager of the book division of Charles Levy Circulating Co.

The 490-page volume, titled "Rights in Conflict," is being published by Bantam Books and sold at $1 a copy.

Brown University in Providence, R.I., agreed to demands of Negro students who said they would boycott classes until black enrollment was increased. Students said they would study the proposal before accepting it.

About 65 students at Brown and Pembroke, its sister college, had earlier marched off campus declaring that a refusal of their demands would show that "it is a racist institution and plans to stay that way."

The students asked for a Negro enrollment of 11 per cent in incoming freshman classes. Brown has about 50 Negroes among its 2,000 students and Pembroke 35 among 1,000.

Talked Into It Could Demand Air Pirates' Return

There was this man who wanted to buy a parrot and walked into a pet shop where an auction was going on. The prize was a big and beautiful bird, and the bidding raged for an hour - until our friend finally bought the parrot for $150.

"Now you're sure this bird can talk?" he asked the shop owner as he turned over his check. "Sure I'm sure," the storekeeper replied, "because for the last half hour he's the one who's been bidding against you."

It's not my story and I'm not supposed to connect Brooks Shults' name with it - so I won't.

Eighteen American airliners have been hijacked and flown to Cuba with hundreds of inconvenienced passengers this year.

The routine is always the same: Someone gets up from his seat in the cabin, grabs a stewardess as hostage, forces his way into the cockpit and waving either a gun or a package which he says contains a bomb forces the pilots to alter course and fly to Havana.

After recovery follows the same pattern in each case. Cuba releases the airliner and crew - but the passengers are made to wait while the U.S. sends down a special plane to bring them home.

We'll take the airline folks' word that overpowering a hijacker while in flight is difficult and dangerous. Discharge of a gun might rupture the plane's pressurized cabin, or the package might be just what the hijacker says it is - a bomb.

We grant these grim probabilities. But what we don't understand is why our country hasn't to this day compelled Cuba to return a single hijacker to stand trial in the U.S.

I believe the only person Cuba had claim to and finally was compelled to return to us was a Cuban ex-national aboard a plane from Mexico City to the U.S. which another person hijacked and diverted to Havana. Cuban authorities claimed the ex-Cuban passenger was a wanted man for political crimes, but the U. S. pointed out he was one of our naturalized citizens - and Cuba finally sent him back to us.

But no actual hijacker ever has been returned to us for trial, although piracy either on the sea or in the air is something all national governments disown.

Why hasn't our government made a flat demand that Cuba surrender all known hijackers and return them to the country over whose territory the piracy was committed - meaning with a single Mexican exception our United States?

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - State Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock said Thursday he had fired Carl Stobaugh of Morrilton as welfare director in Cleburne County.

The announcement came after Stobaugh said Wednesday that he had resigned to become a deputy on the staff of his uncle, Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins.

In a letter dated Dec. 4, Blaylock said he had terminated Stobaugh's employment, effective immediately.

The letter said Stobaugh had "actively engaged in partisan politics in violation of state and federal regulations," had failed to meet minimum qualifications for employment at the time of his last appointment; had "placed ineligible persons on welfare rolls; and had been absent from the place of duty on frequent occasions without taking leave."

Agnew Thinks He'll Be Controversial

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) - Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew said today that just as he was a controversial candidate in the presidential campaign "there is no reason to believe that I will be any less controversial as vice president."

Speaking in advance of President-elect Richard M. Nixon's arrival at the Republican governors' conference, Agnew predicted that the new GOP administration will provide "an era of renaissance for state governments" by giving them flexibility in spending federal grants.

Designated by Nixon as his liaison with state governors, Agnew gave voice to the complaints that the governors have been stacking up to present to Nixon, who is scheduled for a midday arrival. Aldes said Nixon expects to talk to every GOP governor and those newly elected before and after he speaks at a formal conference state dinner tonight.

Agnew's remarks were prepared for delivery.

Agnew told his colleagues that they can expect him to meet their complaints that Washington parcels out federal grant money on an uneven basis and keeps its hand too rigidly on spending.

Agnew told a conference panel: "I was a controversial governor. I have been a controversial candidate for vice president. There is no reason to believe that I will be any less controversial as vice president."

"I do not intend to play games with the secret meaning of words nor practice the gentle art of the platitude. I do not intend to rely on dictionary definitions and do intend to call the shots as I see them. I think this is what Richard Nixon selected me to do and what the American people elected me to do."

Search for Identity Has Become a Very Popular Parlor Game

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) - Life today has been called a quest for identity.

Many people seem to be going around in circles plaintively inquiring of each other, like treble-voiced lost birds, "Are you actually you?" and "Tell me the truth now, am I really me?"

Others simply cling at every passing label and plead "Please help me find out who I am."

Yes, the search for identity has become one of the most popular parlor guessing games of our day. But if one is going to play a game at all well, he should begin at the beginning. Instead of starting off by demanding to know who they are, the players should first ask what they are.

"Am I animal, mineral, vegetable or human?" That should be the initial question.

How can one tell if he is really a human being? Here is a simple fill-it-out-yourself questionnaire that might provide the answer.

Sales Tax Hike Seems Inevitable for State, Research Report Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - A research report released Thursday said that an increase in the state sales tax may be unavoidable because Arkansas has reached a low point in its "revenue - expenditure cycle."

The report, prepared by the University of Arkansas Industrial Research and Extension Center at Little Rock, was compiled by Dr. Charles E. Venus of Little Rock, senior industrial specialist at the center.

The sales tax in Arkansas covers goods purchased, but Venus suggested it should be broadened to include services. This, he said, would produce another $8 million annually in additional state revenue.

Venus said any effort to increase the sales tax rate should not be made without "substantial complementary increases in more progressive revenue sources." He said such "progressive sources" would be those that take proportionately larger shares from the larger-income bracket.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has proposed a one-cent increase to the state sales tax. Venus said many states have revenue - expenditure cycles. Taxes are increased and expenditures begin to expand until additional taxes are necessary, he said.

"Arkansas is in the unfortunate but not unusual phase of the cycle where major additional revenues are needed now," he said.

The report said that the state could raise $50 million annually in additional revenue if some big increases in taxes were approved.

Among them would be increasing taxes loosely classified as "other taxes," and "charges and miscellaneous taxes," plus a step-up in the individual state income tax.

The report studied the per capita taxes in all 50 states and made comparisons between the 50-state average per capita tax levels and the per capita tax level in Arkansas alone.

Congress Expected to Approve Pay Increase for All Departments

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - The new Congress will have to move fast if it intends to give Richard M. Nixon a pay raise when he becomes president, or to stop a hefty salary hike for its own members.

President Johnson is expected to recommend across-the-board pay boosts from President on down through Congress and the executive and judiciary branches.

In order for Nixon to get a raise from the current pay scale of $100,000 yearly, Congress would have to give its approval before Inauguration Day, Jan. 20.

The Constitution forbids any change in the President's salary during his term in office. Thus, Congress would have to okay the boost before Jan. 20, or else Nixon will have to wait for a possible second term.

However, most other pay recommendations for congressmen, judges and various officials would go into effect in mid-February without Congressional action.

The increases may follow the recommendations of a nine-member commission created by Congress in 1967 to make a study of government pay scales.

The law that created the commission requires any pay raises recommended by the President must be included in his budget, to be submitted to Congress by Johnson no later than January 18.

The White House said the commission recommendations have not been formally presented to the President, who can reject them.

Protests Spreading in Colleges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Student protests spread to Brown University's Ivy League campus and the halls of Washington University in suburban St. Louis Thursday while violence again struck at troubled San Francisco State College.

Police used drawn pistols and crowd-control chemical sprays to turn back an advancing mob of 150 striking students in the San Francisco College administration building. At least 32 persons were injured in a subsequent melee, two seriously.

Negro community leaders and two white clergymen were among 26 arrested. A total of 61 persons have been arrested since acting president S.I. Hayakawa reopened the 18,000-student campus Monday.

Hayakawa and Mayor Joseph Alioto prepared today to respond to minority students' demands for an ethics studies department, but there was no guarantee that the announcement would end the month-long disturbance.

In St. Louis, about 40 of 100 Negroes enrolled at the 14,000-student Washington University campus locked themselves in the campus police station Thursday night protesting the alleged mistreatment of a Negro graduate student.

Another 200 white students occupied another administration office in the orderly and peaceful demonstration to back the Negro student's demands that three security officers be fired.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The new Congress will have to move fast if it intends to give Richard M. Nixon a pay raise when he becomes president, or to stop a hefty salary hike for its own members.

President Johnson is expected to recommend across-the-board pay boosts from President on down through Congress and the executive and judiciary branches.

In order for Nixon to get a raise from the current pay scale of $100,000 yearly, Congress would have to give its approval before Inauguration Day, Jan. 20.

The Constitution forbids any change in the President's salary during his term in office. Thus, Congress would have to okay the boost before Jan. 20, or else Nixon will have to wait for a possible second term.

However, most other pay recommendations for congressmen, judges and various officials would go into effect in mid-February without Congressional action.

The increases may follow the recommendations of a nine-member commission created by Congress in 1967 to make a study of government pay scales.

The law that created the commission requires any pay raises recommended by the President must be included in his budget, to be submitted to Congress by Johnson no later than January 18.

The White House said the commission recommendations have not been formally presented to the President, who can reject them.

Procedure Struggle Is Threatening to Delay Peace Talks in Paris

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) - A developing struggle over procedures threatens further delay in the start of bargaining to end the Vietnam war.

In two private meetings this week, the United States and North Vietnam have agreed on the room and the languages to be used at the outset of the conference. But they are disputing whether the four delegations will sit at a square or rectangular conference table, a seemingly minor issue with major overtones.

North Vietnam's chief delegate, Xuan Thuy, told newsmen at a reception Thursday night North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front want a square table. This would underline the Communist view that the Paris conference is to be a four-party affair.

Thuy said the Americans plugged for a rectangular table, with two long sides representative of the U.S. view that the talks will be between a Communist delegation and a joint U.S.-Saigon delegation.

How important was all this, Thuy was asked.

"Whether it's important or not it must be resolved," he replied. "You cannot sit down at a conference without a table."

U.S. Ambassador Cyrus Vance and North Vietnam's Col. Ha Van Lau, who have been conducting the private sessions, were scheduled to meet again today or Saturday to tackle the table issue again.

They have agreed that the deputy leaders of the four teams will begin the expanded conference by working out the rules of conference procedure.

Vance said in an interview broadcast Thursday by the British Broadcasting Corp. that he hoped the expanded talks, delayed now for a month by Saigon's boycott, "will get under way the first part of next week."

But Pham Van Ba, head of the NLF information bureau in Paris, told newsmen this was highly improbable because of the number and difficulty of the points still to be settled.

The statement in New York Thursday by chief U.S. negotiator W. Averell Harriman that he and Vance would be replaced by President-elect Nixon's own envoys next month drew little interest from the North Vietnamese.

"American policy in South Vietnam is one of aggression," Xuan Thuy said, and President Johnson and Nixon "basically resemble each other."

37 Allied Bases Shelled by Enemy

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) - Viet Cong and North Vietnamese gunners shelled 37 allied bases and South Vietnamese towns Thursday night and early Friday in the heaviest rash of such attacks since the halt in the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1, military spokesmen reported today.

The spokesmen said from 300 to 400 mortar and rocket rounds were fired. A total of 27 South Vietnamese were reported killed and 104 wounded in the shelling and in three terrorist attacks.

The majority of the rocket and mortar attacks came in an arc northwest to north of Saigon. Enemy troops in that area also rampaged through a hamlet, killing 11 persons, wounding another 22 and burning 25 houses despite the presence of thousands of American and South Vietnamese troops in nearby areas.

It took South Vietnamese reinforcements two hours to move less than two miles to the aid of the lightly defended hamlet, which is 60 miles north of Saigon and just outside the heavily defended provincial capital of An Loc.

By the time the reinforcements arrived, the attackers had pulled out and their casualties, if any, were not known. A government spokesman in Saigon said he did not know the reason for the delay in reinforcing the hamlet, which was defended by 30 militiamen.

Five of the rocket and mortar attacks were within one to four miles of An Loc, against U.S. Air Cavalrymen in night bivouacs. South Vietnamese infantrymen and the An Loc district headquarters.

The American Command also announced that two U.S. helicopters were shot down within 10 miles of An Loc on Wednesday and Thursday, killing all eight crewmen aboard. The losses raised to 950 the number of American helicopters shot down over South Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

U. S. headquarters said the shelling of U.S. bases caused light casualties and damage, and artillery and helicopter gunships were employed against the suspected enemy firing positions with unknown results.

In 28 of the attacks the targets were 10 provincial capitals and district towns and 18 South Vietnamese military bases, a government spokesman said.

The government said that since the halt in the bombing, there have been 115 shelling of provincial capitals and district towns, with 56 civilians killed and 498 wounded.

The attacks on American installations included 25 rounds of mortar fire slammed into a U.S. Army support area in the sprawling Bien Hoa Air Base 15 miles north of Saigon.

At the northern end of South Vietnam, U.S. Marine bombers and the battleship New Jersey made coordinated attacks Thursday on North Vietnamese gun positions and bunkers inside the demilitarized zone for the second time this week.
